

Polymath 1,136 Set by Sleuth

ACROSS

- 1 French stage actress born in 1844 noted for playing female and male roles (5,9)
- 9 Czech-English actor who played Chief Inspector Charles Dreyfus in the Pink Panther film series (7,3)
- 10 Dr Richard, title character played by Harrison Ford in the 1993 film The Fugitive (6)
- 11 Play by Norwegian playwright Henrik Ibsen published in 1867 (4,4)
- 12 Machines for deepening a harbour, canal or river (8)
- 13 Large South African antelopes, sometimes called the bastard hartebeest (9)
- 14 A Buddhist temple or sacred building, typically in the form of a tiered tower (6)
- 15 Jonathan, British athlete who won gold in the triple jump at the 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney (7)
- 17 Roman poet noted for his satires (7)
- 20 John, Irish Taoiseach from 1994 to 1997 (6)
- 21 A hurtling mass of snow descending a mountainside (9)
- 23 A member of a pacifist movement (8)
- 25 2005 vampire-romance novel by US novelist Stephenie Meyer (8)
- 26 One of the Graces in Greek mythology (6)
- 27 Given to betraying (10)
- 28 The theory that members of a hierarchical organisation are promoted to one stage beyond their level of competence (5,9)

DOWN

- 1 US film director whose work includes the Ocean's trilogy of heist films from 2001 to 2007 (6,10)
- 2 Jason, US actor who played Washington Post executive editor Ben Bradlee in the 1976 film All the President's Men (7)
- 3 British golfer born in 1870 who won six British Open titles (5,6)
- 4 Relating to the earliest age of man represented by the use of worked flint implements (8)
- 5 The practice or state of living an itinerant life (8)
- 6 Irish racehorse that won three consecutive Cheltenham Gold Cups (5)
- 7 A political agitator who appeals to the passions and prejudices of the mob (9)
- 8 English architect who designed the Natural History Museum in London (6,10)
- 14 Describing a society in which different ethnic groups can preserve their own customs (11)
- 16 A strong container in which substances can be heated under pressure (9)
- 18 Something that provides additional support or protection (8)
- 19 Highly seasoned smoked beef, usually served in thin slices (8)
- 22 A lively sound made by a bird or insect (7)
- 24 Airey, first British prisoner of war to escape from Colditz Castle in World War II (5)

Solution Polymath 1,134

